

Leaving a legacy: Fort Lauderdale Historical Society to honor the Honorable E. Clay Shaw, Jr. and Emilie Shaw

The Fort Lauderdale Historical Society (FLHS) will hold its 15th annual Founders Dinner on November 7 honoring the Honorable E. Clay Shaw, Jr. and Emilie Shaw. The dinner will be held at the Hyatt Regency Pier Sixty-Six beginning with an auction and cocktail reception at 6:30 p.m.

Sponsors for the event include: AT&T; Bunnell Woulfe Kirschbaum Keller & Gregorie, P.A.; EDSA; Greenberg Traurig; Ralph Marrinson; Miccosukee Resort & Gaming; Nova Southeastern University; Charles L. Palmer; Ruden McClosky; The Las Olas Company/Riverside Hotel; and Helen and George Weaver.

Honorary chairs for the event are Laura and Charles L. Palmer along with co-chairs Dianne and George Bunnell, Judy and Joel Gustafson, Julie and Bob Huebner and Martha and Ralph Marrinson.

"FLHS is honoring the Shaws to recognize them for their loyalty and commitment to our community," said FLHS President Paul McCawley.

For nearly four decades, the Shaws have served as leaders in the greater Fort Lauderdale community and as our representatives in Washington, D.C. Clay Shaw's public service began in the City of Fort Lauderdale where he served as city prosecutor, commissioner, vice mayor and mayor. In 1981 he became a Congressman and served for 26 years. Emilie has been a dedicated community volunteer in both greater Fort Lauderdale and the nation's capital. She participated in the activities that led to the formation of the FLHS site and also co-chaired the City's Bicentennial Committee. Emilie worked tirelessly for Florida House, our state's "embassy" in Washington and for the Congressional Woman's Club.

For more information, contact Nikki Myers at 954-463-4431, ext. 19 or visit www.oldfortlauderdale.org.

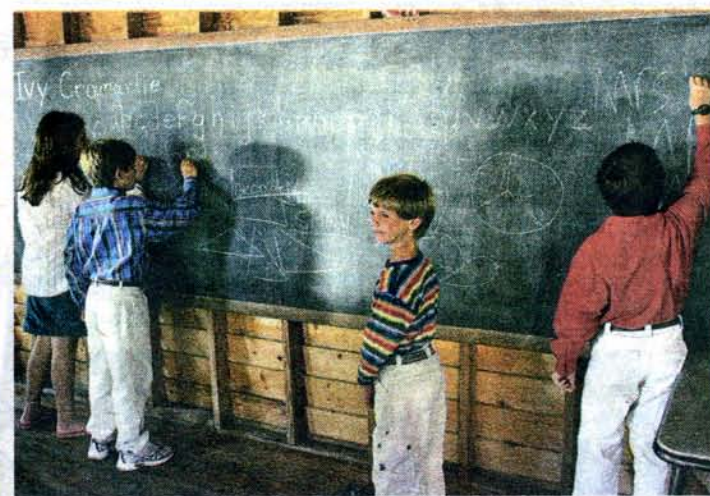

Emilie Shaw and Honorable E. Clay Shaw, Jr.

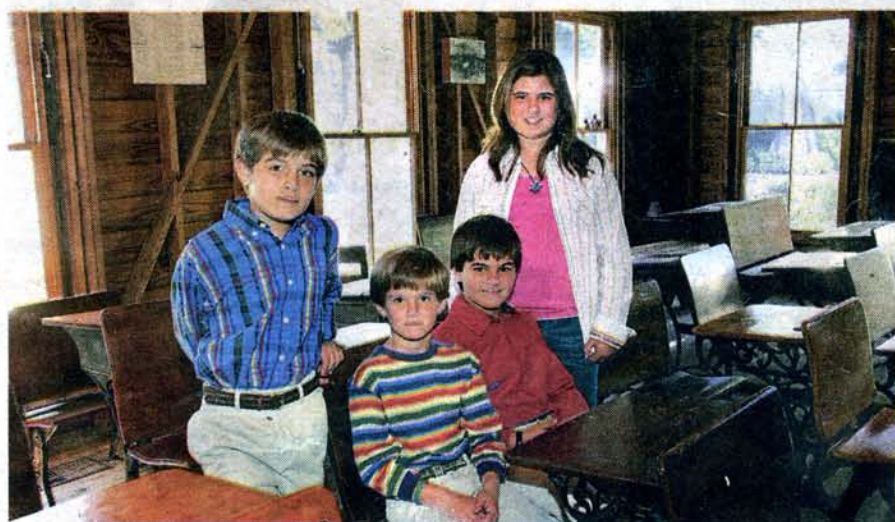

George Caldwell, left, Dianne Bunnell and Julie Huebner

Claire Crawford, left, Joel Gustafson and Judy Gustafson

Reagan Shaw, left, Clay Shaw IV, Hampton Shaw and David Baker

The Shaw grandchildren: Clay Shaw IV, left, Hampton Shaw, David Baker and Reagan Shaw

Standing: George Caldwell, left, Emilie Shaw, Honorable E. Clay Shaw, Jr., George Bunnell, Joel Gustafson and Bob Huebner
Seated: Julie Huebner, left, Judy Gustafson, Dianne Bunnell and Clair Crawford